INITIATIVE
Enterprise Asset Management Solution

Initiative by North Carolina's Department of Transportation to implement a state-wide, market leading fleet enterprise asset management solution for public transportation organizations

In 2006 AssetWorks (now part of Trapeze Group) contracted with the Choanoke Public Transportation Authority to deploy and host the transit agency's enterprise maintenance management application FleetFocus (now: Trapeze EAM). In 2010 the North Carolina Department of Transportation (DOT) expanded the use of the contract to serve smaller fleets of rural transit operators throughout the state.

Under this contract, Trapeze continues to host the application. Trapeze also provides training and setup services in a phased implementation based on geography. An additional eight to 10 agencies have been added to the system in each of eight phases, with a total of 76 agencies now using Trapeze EAM to handle all fleet asset management, DOT and FTA reporting as well as day-to-day maintenance management activities. Any transit agency within North Carolina may utilize the hosted solution to comply with their enterprise asset management and state of good repair requirements.

Rural Transits

- Included in base license
- 7 geographical groupings of 8–10 agencies
- 3 groups implemented; 1 underway

Non-Rural Transits

- Additional to base license

The North Carolina DOT has made Trapeze EAM the standard for fleet maintenance management software in the state. Other agencies in North Carolina are allowed to partner with Trapeze, directly utilizing this existing contract. Agencies may either host the application on internal servers or go with a Trapeze hosted solution. One of the latest agencies taking advantage of the opportunity presented by the DOT and Trapeze is Chapel Hill Transit, servicing the Chapel Hill, Carrboro and University of North Carolina communities.
