

Introducing Trapeze Workforce Development

The new Trapeze Workforce Development solution provides transit agencies with complete insight into organization-wide staff competencies from one consolidated view. By automating and streamlining the delivery of training, staff grading, and assessments, Workforce Development can help formulate proactive training plans to improve a variety of positive outcomes.

Trapeze Workforce Development solves current training administration challenges:

Provides one centralized agency-wide view of training requirements and identified skill gaps for better safety outcomes

Simplifies scheduling of actual training classes with a quick 3-step process that automatically sends out notifications and reminders

Analyzes and consolidates all training information from across the entire agency

Allows training supervisors to manage employee training records and grade staff digitally in one central location

Tracks all training requirements at the staff level and triggers alerts when specific training activities are due

Enables employee assessment through digital forms, reducing outdated manual and paper-based process

Matches schedules of trainers and trainees to provide recommendations for ongoing requirements
